Constructed in 1943, this is a "Mobilization," "Semi-Permanent" type of structure. It contains 3,992 square feet and was built at a cost of $8,500. No other use for the building is indicated in available records. The building is the westernmost one of a group facing a cul-de-sac road off Eighth Street between A and D Streets.

The building is rectangular in plan and measures 25 feet-4 inches by 150 feet-6 inches with an 8-foot-10-inch-by-27-foot-5-inch offset along the east wall. The one-story building has a concrete foundation, wood floor and wall framing and a gabled roof with composition shingles. It has a large number of 6/6 double-hung sash windows along all but the south elevation. Entry is from the north through a set of double doors. The building is clad in horizontal wood siding and has four roof vents atop the ridge. The offset has a shed roof. The building seems well maintained and in good structural condition.

The interior plan features two large rooms on the north, then a central corridor with 23 small rooms, including restrooms and showers, on either side. The building has the same floorplan as buildings 2617 and 2638.
